Teacher Summary of Intro Slide Deck

This slide deck accompanies "What They Can Teach Us: The Podcast" — a series exploring the postwar immigration stories of four German women (Barbara, Lisa, Alma, and Anneliese) who came to Canada in the late 1940s and early 1950s.

Slide Topics:

- Introduction to the podcast series and its purpose
- The women's stories: identity, courage, and new beginnings
- Historical context: postwar Germany and Canadian immigration

- Cultural threads: music, food, film, and fashion of the era
- Fashion — colour behind the black-and-white photographs
- Immigration — courage and enrichment newcomers bring
- Listening guide: episodes are topic-based and can be enjoyed in any order

Curriculum Connections:

Designed to support Manitoba Grade 11 History of Canada (30F) — aligned to GLOs and SLOs around identity, citizenship, and Canada in the world. Integrates oral history with historical-thinking skills (sourcing, contextualizing, corroborating).

Use this deck to introduce the podcast, preview episode themes, and connect student listening to unit objectives.
